Study sheet

Eklavya's Morning Brief · Thursday, 12 November 2026 · AI-assisted notes: verify before citing

Topics covered today

Criminal procedure (BNSS) (4) · Constitutional law (3) · Judiciary & profession (2) · Evidence (BSA) (1) · Rajasthan (1) · Environment (1) · Property & land (1) · Contract & commercial (1) · Service & administrative (1)

Recall quiz

1. In MS Baby v. Union of India, what did the Supreme Court say about displaying notices?
2. What key factor vitiated the detention order in Pranab Doley v. Union of India?
3. What directive did the Kerala High Court give to the Board in Suo Motu v. State of Kerala?
4. Why did the Gauhati High Court reject Md. Sofiqul Islam's claim in Md. Sofiqul Islam v. Union of India?
5. According to Abhijit Dilip Garad v. State of Maharashtra, what alone can constitute marital discord?

Answers

1. Competent authorities may display the notice afresh, provided it does not impede free movement of advocates, litigants and others.
2. Lack of complete and full disclosure of the status of 13 criminal cases against Doley.
3. To fully and strictly implement directions ensuring Assistant Temple Special Officers and ghee-counter employees are aware of their duties.
4. He failed to establish any linkage with his father Sadar Ali and grandfather Jahur Ali and did not disclose relationships shown in the jamabandi.
5. A husband's inability to spend time with his wife or take her out due to work commitments.

Maxim of the day

Volenti non fit injuria: To a willing person no injury is done: consent as a defence in tort.

Article of the day

Article 246: Distribution of legislative subjects between Parliament and State legislatures.

Legal terms, English and Hindi

judgment
affidavit acquittal conviction sentence

Flashcards from today

MS Baby v. Union of India & Ors Judiciary & profession

Pranab Doley v. Union of India & Ors Criminal procedure (BNSS)

Suo Motu v. State of Kerala General

Md. Sofiqul Islam v. Union of India & Ors Evidence (BSA)

Abhijit Dilip Garad v. State of Maharashtra Criminal procedure (BNSS)

Committee Of Management Katyawali Dharmshala Society And Another v. State Of U.P Constitutional law
A litigant cannot make contact with the counsel for the rival party

Union of India & Anr. v. Abhishek Chandra Constitutional law
Provisional attachment order under challenge was required to be tested for compliance with the requirements of Section 5(5) PMLA