Study sheet

Eklavya's Morning Brief · Wednesday, 11 November 2026 · AI-assisted notes: verify before citing

Topics covered today

Environment (2) · Criminal procedure (BNSS) (2) · Constitutional law (2) · Civil procedure (CPC) (1) · Limitation (1) · Family & succession (1) · Property & land (1) · Service & administrative (1) · Contract & commercial (1) · Tort, consumer & motor (1)

Recall quiz

1. In Yusuf v. Vigyapan Loke Delhi Advertising CGHS Ltd, what did the Supreme Court note about the 2013 balance sheet's "sundry creditors" entry?

2. According to the Madras High Court, can a natural guardian father forcibly take custody of his child?

3. What did the Madras High Court direct the Director of Public Libraries to do regarding fraudulent book procurement?

4. What principle did the Punjab & Haryana High Court apply when denying a videography request in an RTI case?

5. How did the Kerala High Court limit police power over licensed bar hotels?

Answers

1. It showed Rs 21,79,465 for 2004-05 but did not indicate that the amount was due.
2. No, he must seek custody through legal proceedings, not by force.
3. Submit a list of officials responsible for the fraud and ensure future procurement follows the Government Order.
4. Videography was refused because no material showed malice or prima facie subversion of the recruitment process.
5. Police cannot restrict operating hours merely for alleged drug use; the hotel may operate until 3 a.m. while respecting noise-pollution rights.

Maxim of the day

Ignorantia juris non excusat: Ignorance of the law is no excuse.

Article of the day

Article 235: Control over subordinate courts vested in the High Court.

Legal terms, English and Hindi

cross-examination examination-in-chief charge sheet jurisdiction
decree

Flashcards from today

Yusuf v. Vigyapan Loke Delhi Advertising CGHS Ltd Civil procedure (CPC) · Limitation

Being Natural Guardian Doesn't Entitle Father To Take Child's Custody By Force: Madras High Court Family & succession

A father, though being a natural guardian of a minor child, cannot take the child's custody by force and should seek custody only in accordance…